DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Drawings

1. The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81. No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing.

Claim Objections

1. Claims 16 and 17 are objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 16, lines 3 and 8, "RMS" needs to spell out. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. There are no drawings that describe the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2613

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nagasaka et al. (US 6,157,744) as best understand.

Re claims 1-23, Nagasaka discloses a method for separating image sequences stored on media into individual sequence comprising the step of: determining sequence change of a first type when means image brightness of a current image exceeds an upper threshold value or is less than a lower threshold value (900-914 of fig. 9), wherein the threshold values are calculated from a moving value of the image brightness of preceding images (908-912 of fig. 9); setting separation markers, a predetermined number of black or white, (906 of fig. 9) of a first type for sequence changes of the first type; determining sequence changes of second type, based on a change in an image content between successive images (908 of fig. 9); and setting separation markers of second type for sequence changes of the second type (908-910 of fig. 9); wherein the sequence changes in the first type comprise a predetermined number of successive individual images of substantially the same brightness (906 of fig. 9); wherein the sequence changes in the second type comprise predetermined number of individual image having substantially corresponding image content (908 and 910 of fig. 9; see also figs. 4-5); wherein the sequence changes in the second type comprise an individual image whose content differs from the content of its preceding images by a predetermined amount (910 of fig. 9); wherein the image sequences are digitized (3 of fig. 1) before determining the sequence changes of the first and second types; wherein separation markers of the first type comprise a predetermined number of successive black images or a predetermined number of successive white images (606 of fig. 6, e.g. the brightness or white of the images); wherein images identified as separation markers are not stored (figs. 3-5), and wherein a first image (fn-2) immediately after each separation marker is the first image of image sequence; wherein a selected individual image of an individual sequence is displayed as an icon on a monitor (1200 of fig. 12), and wherein individual sequence is started by clicking on the icon (1202 of fig. 12); and wherein a sequence of individual sequences is start for viewing by clicking on a plurality icons (5 of fig. 12); the computer (fig. 12) for automatically separating digitized films into individual sequences.

6. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Taniguchi et al. (US 5,642,294) as best understand, where Taniguchi discloses the claimed invention in figures 1-24.

7. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Liou et al. (EP 0 780 776 A1) as best understand, pages 1-35.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Miyatake et al. (US 5,083,860) discloses method for detecting change points in motion picture images.
